

Committee II
Delegate - Vancouver Heritage Foundation
March 8, 2017

VHF would like to speak briefly about our wish to encourage the retention and sustainable continued sympathetic use of the little yellow schoolhouse.

The schoolhouse is a piece of our education system's local history, is an architecturally significant reflection of that past and was attended by many early Vancouverites.

VHF advocates for the retention of our heritage sites for reasons of reflecting our history and Vancouver's early architecture, to respect the past and to find sustainable contemporary uses for buildings. It is a challenge and a problem that Vancouver continues tearing down soundly constructed buildings, and we would encourage the VSB to consider alternate proponents for continued use for this small but significant building.
