

Van Tech Auditorium

Renovated & Ready for Vancouver's Players

Host your next event at the newly renovated Van Tech Auditorium

Re-opened in January 2009, the 80-year-old Vancouver Technical Secondary School Auditorium re-joins the ranks of the city's first class performance venues.

As part of the school's $52-million comprehensive seismic upgrade and renovation, the venue underwent a complete makeover to improve safety conditions and update the interior design and audio-visual features.

Architects have enhanced the acoustics and comfort of the space while retaining its historic architectural charm (circa 1930).

Designed to suit the needs of performers and audience alike, the space features new wall and ceiling acoustic treatments to enhance sound.

State-of-the-art audio and theatrical lighting systems give artists and technicians the creative control they need to design their productions.

A new eco-friendly heating system and comfortable, upholstered seats create a pleasurable viewing environment suitable for shows, concerts and presentations.
