Dear Livingstone Students,

This is one of my favorite places. This is the tree that my sister, my cousins and I named “The Monkey Tree” in Tatlow Park. We had names for lots of the trees. My grandparents were the caretakers of Tatlow Park after they retired. Every Sunday, their four kids would bring the ten grandchildren and their friends for Sunday dinner. We explored, played tag, rode bikes, roller skated, read comics, tried to play tennis, flew our kites, and then tried to get the tangled kites out of the trees. My husband even asked me to marry him in this park. It has lots of happy memories. I love going back to visit.

Dr. Bonnie Henry tells us that being outside is a healthy thing to do as long as we are practicing physical distancing. Some students will be coming back to school on June 1st and some students will continue to do their learning at home. Whether you are at home or at school, spending time outdoors is a good idea. It is healthy. It’s fun. It’s easy to feel grateful when you pause to watch...the birds, the trees, the mountains. I love this time of year when you take a big breath and smell freshly mowed grass. And you just may be creating memories that will continue to make you happy as a grown-up.

I’d love to hear about your adventures in the great outdoors.
